Welcome to the world of FELIX!

Passion for our products, good taste, selected ingredients and high quality standards - these are the secret ingredients of our FELIX products.

The high quality of our products already starts with the raw material. FELIX only chooses partners who fulfil many and strict criteria. The high quality standards of FELIX are regularly controlled by independent institutions and confirmed by the IFS certificate. For many years, FELIX Tomato Ketchup has been convincing with its particularly good taste and high quality! A variety of fruity, sun-ripened tomatoes make FELIX ketchup simply irresistibly good and a popular companion for many different dishes.

FELIX Ketchup is preserved by a gentle heat treatment and is therefore free from any colourings or preservatives. The natural production process keeps the colour and consistency strong and creamy, making FELIX Ketchup the ketchup with the best taste. The natural colouring of the tomatoes - lycopene - is preserved.
